EDITH MAY'S SPARKLING RACE.

Clint Burnett's Filly Gave Away a Lot of Weight and Beat Good Colts Easily-Doc Street's Good Thing.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New Orleans, Nov. 28.-Hart Dernham's good mare, Spencerian, favored with unubreezed over her field in the Magnolia Selling Stakes at the Fair Grounds this afternoon. Opening at 2 to 1 and thereabouts, the crowd would have nothing to do with her, and she went back to 7 and 8 to 1. Perhaps, they thought it was too short for ber, but, whatever the reason, they played nearly everything else Jake Greenberg and Kickshaw seemed to hold the highest places in public estimation and drew most of the play. Kickshaw made all the running down to the last sixreenth noie. Jake Greenberg raced into second position at the far turn and looked for a moment as though he might have a chance, but he could not stand the pace and, when he passed it up, Spencerlan made a rush which carried her past him and lapped her on Kickshaw. The latter did her best to hold on, but the Dernham filly was too good and breezed over him in the last eighth. Kickshaw was an easy second over Jake Greenberg. EDITH MAY'S VICTORY.

Edith May ran a very brilliant race in the second, and one that stamps her as even a better mare than her admirers even a better mare than her admirers thought her. Carrying 115 to 104 on Brush Up, a very fair 2-year-old on Eastern tracks, she waited on him and Petit Duc to the last sixteenth, and then ran over them like they were tied. She was a well-backed favorite.

Dan McKenna was well played to beat Rankin in the fifth, though the latter's form in Chicano has been exceptionally good. McKenna ran a greatly improved race, and with one more race in him will be hard to beat, but he could not stall off. Rankin's rush at the end to-day, and Arthur's crack mudiark won with comparative ease.

Chris Schawacker's colt, Raiph Young, gave Rainiand a brush at even weights for the place money.

GEORGE WHEELOCK LEADS WINNING BOOKMAKERS.

Quits the Senson $172,000 Ahead the Game-Joseph Blume Attracts Attention

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, Nov. 36.-The much-vexed uestion as to "who got the money" this season has been partially explained in gossip around the hotels. It is asserted that George Wheelock is $172 000 ahead on the year. Wheelook lost for the three days that he was here, and, not caring further to put off his plans for a trip to Europe and Africa, he gave up booking for the season. He has gone to New York. He will take abroad with him one of the best-equipped automobiles made and will tour a great part of the Continent for the next four months. He dismissed as idle report the rumor that there was anything but harmony between the Metropolita Tur! Association and the Racing Association, although some of the bookmakers say that they do not see why the Aqueduct management receives only $11 a day from odds-layers, while Washington received management receives only $44 a day from odds-layers, while Washington received $57.

Other big winning bookmakers of the year, so prolific of disaster to hundreds of players, are Sol. Lichtenstein, who is not far behind Wheelock in his winnings; Snow, who is $30,000 ahead; Joe Rose, $85.00; Ser Strank, $25,000; Leo Swartz, $70,000; Harian of California, $90,000; George Bowles, $55,000; George Rose and "Billy" Cowan, each about $50,000 ahead. Last year some fifteen bookmakers were declared to have won on the season. This year double that number will close the year well ahead.

Fred Walbaum got about even on the horses late in the season, after losing in the early part of the year, and he also won $55,000 an the election.

Most remarkable winner amongst bookmakers is a young man named Joseph Blume, whose specialty is field bookmaking. He was not long ago a clerk in a shoe store, and during last season was the backer of no less than fourteen books in the field at one time. Blume, who looks it has a young bank clerk, and does not seem to have reached the age of 25, is looked upon as one of the most important operators at the tracks, but prefers to keep at the field end of the game. Principally because no "markers," or, at least, very few, are taken there. He is $100,000 ahead of the game.

One of Blume's most invaluable aids is the well-known turf expert, "Va'ley" Miley, whose knowledge of the work of the horses has prevented Blume from overlaying the price against good horses Tyley, the "humming bird." Is also a very heavy winner on the year.

TWO BLACK BEARS ACCOMPANY PARTY

Local Sportsmen Are Bringing Back Lively Souvenirs of Trip to Indian Territory.

Bringing two small but active black bears as souvenirs of their trip, R. F. Combs, Frank Carr, Dick Hawes and Billy Hettell will head a party which returns from the Indian Territory this morning after a fortnight's stay in the region of the Seven Devil Mountains.

According to reports brought back by some members of the party who broke camp a day earlier, and who reached the city yesterday, credit belongs chiefly to Frank Carr for capturing the young bears. The mother was shot by one of the party coming out of her cave, but managed to keep the hunters away by withdrawing behind a ledge of rock where she could not be reached with rifles. Two small bears, evidently several months old, were also discovered lurking in the recesses of the cave. They kept In the recesses of the cave. They kept poking their noises and forequarters around the ledge and were finally captured through Carr devising the scheme of attaching a small steel trap to a long pole and endeavoring to snake the foreleg of the cubs with it.

The plan worked perfectly, and both were captured. The mother died while in the cave. The young bears were taken to the camp, and, according to all accounts, have become comparatively tame. They are being brought back by the hunting delegation which is due to reach the city this morning.

Those of the party who returned yesterday state that small game was plentiful in the regions whence they came, and that many wild turkeys were killed. Several deer were also landed. The range of mountains in which the hunting was done is near the Klamichi Mountain range, in the southeastern section of the Terri-

Doctor J. H. Simon, William Meer, Ed McCarthy, Doctor Ernst and Captain Gallagher composed a party which recently departed on a fishing trip to Stringer's Lake. They met with fair success while in that region. The lake is about sixty miles from this city.

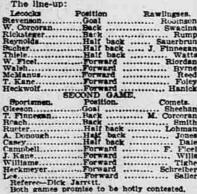

Another party, composed of Steve Howard, Frank Brunold, Claude Martin, Joe Webber, Charles Croghan and Jack Anderson, report fair results on a shooting expedition in the Ozarks, about twenty miles from Lebanon. They bagged quite an amount of small game and secured several turkeys.

Billy Zimmerman, well known in soprting circles as matchmaker of the Columbian Athletic Club, paid a visit to a friend in Illinois last week, stopping at the Ayman farm, about seven miles from Waterloo. His bag for the day included fourteen rabbits, fourteen quall, five squirrels and a twelve-pound coon, the last being captured in the evening.

ARMY IS LUCKY TO DEFEAT NAVY

First Touchdown, Made by the Brilliant Tipton, Result of Fumble.

FINAL SCORE IS 11 TO O.

Game Draws Most Gorgeous Assemblage Possibly in the History of the Sport; Spectaculac Scenes Plentiful.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.-West Point defeated the Annapolis football eleven by the score of 11 to 9-two touchdowns and one goal. The score does not properly indicate the relative strength of the two elevens, for probably not in the history of the great university game have two teams been more evenly matched. The first touchdown for the Army was the result of a fumble by one of the Navy backs, but the brilliancy with which the Army's center took advantage of the error has never been excelled, if equaled, on a football gridiron. The game had been in progress less than ten minutes. The Navy had shown unexpected strength in defense, while the Army's much-vaunted offense had crumbled to naught. With the ball in midfield, Smith, for the Navy, was hurled back for a loss. Spencer also failed and Howard kicked to the Army's thirty-five-yard line. West Point found the Navy line a Gibraltar, and Torney kicked to midfield.

There were three Annapolls men under the punt, but when all had been thrown, the ball rolled off to one side of the mass of players. Tipton, coming on from behind, with muscle and brain both in good working condition, kicked the ball toward the Navy's goal. Pursued by half a dozen Navy men, he had no time to stoop and secure the sphere, but, rushing on, he again dribbled it. His aim was accurate and the ball was driven nearer the Navy's goal. When within fifteen yards of the coveted line, Tipton knew that a touchdown for the Army was inevitable. As he drew near to the goal he began to loosen his burdensome headgear and nose guard that he might be enabled to locate the ball with more accuracy.

A third kick and the pigskin was behind the Navy's goal, Tipton by toon it. Such deliberation and rare judgment in a mowas probably the turning point for victory for West Point.

Up to this time the Annapolis boys had really outplayed their heavier opponents, and on the exchange of punts aided by a stiff wind, had gradually forced West Point nearer her own goal line.

GAING WINDS ADVANCED

GAINS WIND'S ADVANTAGE. This touchdown gave West Point the advantage of the wind, and was doubtless mainly responsible for the victory of the Army over the Navy. Doe missed the goal, and the score stood 5 to 0 in favor of the Army. Probab'y never in the memory of the oldest of the football enthusiasts has a more bitter defense been witnessed than that put up by the Navy during the next twenty minutes of play.

On an exchange of punts the Army secured the ball on the Navy's fifty- yard time. From this point it required twenty-two minutes for the Army to force the ball to the Navy's goal, and this with a gift of five yards for offside. During this time it was necessary for the referee to measure the distance five times in order to ascertain if the holder of the ball had secured first down. mainly responsible for the victory of the before the close of the game, the Navy, by line bucking by Doherty and Gormley, the latter having taken Smith's position at full back, carried the ball from their own thirty-eight-yard line to within twenty yards of West Point's goal, where it was lost on downs. In this half the advantage, if there really was any, favored the Navy.

SOCIETY IN FORCE. SOCIETY IN FORCE. Society recognizes the West Point-Annapolis game as the proper football function. Not in the history of the game

Annapolis game as the proper football function. Not in the history of the game has such an immense crowd witnessed a football contest in this city, with t e exception of the game which was attended by President Roosevelt two years ago. The ideal weather was an incentive for those who cared to view the contest, and there were more than 20,000 present.

There was a congestion of car lines. The scene was inspiring. On the south stand the Army gray sold out prominently among the multicolored hais and gowns of those who surrounded the West Point section, while on the not that stand the Navy blue, banked on either side by a veritable flower garden, made the spectacle brilliant, indeed.

It seemed as if the War and Navy departments and the foreign legations had been transferred from the national capital to this city.

In the forefront, and attracting the most attention, was his Imperial Highness, Prince Fuehimi, member of the reigning house of the Japanese Empire. The Prince and his suite entered the great oval through the gymnasium building. He was escorted by Mayor Weaver and Charles C. Harrison, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. When the Japanese nobleman was discovered by the great crowd he was loudly cheered until he took his seat among the rooters for the Navy on the thirty-five-yard line of the west goal. The Prince did not know much about the game, but took an intense interest in the immense throng, and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the terrific noise sent up by the Army and Navy cadets. The Prince and his party left the game shortly after the second half began.

FAIRBANKS PRESENT.

FAIRBANKS PRESENT. Vice-President-elect and Mrs. Fairbanks occupied seats on the West Point side of the field.

The Secretary of the Navy was the center of a large group in a box on the Navy side, and opposite him on the Army side sat Acting Secretary of War Oliver. Near him were Lieutenant General and Mrs. Inaffee, Miss Chaffee, Sr Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, Mrs. Durand, Miss Durend and Miss Taft. Seated in boxes were secretaries and foreign Embassies. Everywhere in the stand could be seen men whose names are famous in either the army or the navy. With the exception of the anders from the two may not not be first to may also no one was in uniform.

The West Pous sand was the first to may on the field at 1:51. Three minutes later the Navy appeared. Both were casered heartily. After a brief signal reliearsal, the Navy won the toss and chose the west goal, giving West Point the ball. Prince kicked off at 2:96 and the game was on.

hearsal, the Navy won the toss and chose the west goal, giving West Point the ball. Prince kicked off at 2:08 and the game, may be seen a second to the game, had been inspiring, was turned into a grand pageant after the battle. The Army lads, preceded by their band, and followed by thousands, circled the field time and time again, while the Navy was busy rendering the "Army and Navy." The Army lads formed a hure circle extending from one side of the gridient to the other, with a flag guardian in the center, and made grand rush for the emb'em which all are 'aught to honor. It was the culmination of a great game and a brilliant social event.

CARLISLE OVERWHELMS HASKELL TEAM, WINNING FROM WESTERNERS 38 TO 4.

Pennsylvania Indians Have Little Trouble With Their Opponents, Scoring Over Kansas Delegation at Will-Save for Solitary Field Goal in First Half, Haskell Did Nothing.

In the second haif. Haskell kicked off, but commenced play in rather dispirited fashion. H. Pierce got the ball and made two gains of ten yards each through the Haskell line on fake kicks. In each case he went through the line as though it was paper, and the Westerners had hard struggles to stop his rush.

In successive line bucks, directed mainly against Warren and Oliver, Carlisle worked the ball steadily toward the opposing line. When within the yard mark, Haskell made a desperate stand, and held Carlisle for dozens on the one-foot mark.

E. Hauser kicked the ball out to the twenty-yard line. It was returned by Carlisle. On another attempt to kick it free of their goal after securing it by determined holding of the opposing attacks, White of Carlisle managed to block the White of Carlisle managed to block the punt and the ball bounced back behind the Haskell line. Archiquette fell upon it and secured the ball, but his action scored two points, or a safety, for the opposing team. On the kickoff, after a few minutes of strenuous play. Rogers of Carlisle went over for another touchdown. Libby kicked goal making the score 2 to 4 in favor of the Easterners. Bowen scored next, making the total 25 to 4. Libby kicked goal.
